

The leaf that walks

Is that leaf moving? No, it's actually a sneaky leaf insect using clever camouflage to avoid being eaten!

Leaf insects sway when they walk to look like leaves blowing in the wind.

More leaf pretenders

Leaf insects aren't the only animals that look like leaves. Here are some other animals it would be hard to spot in a forest.

Asian leaf frog

This frog spends most of its time on the forest floor, so looking like dead, brown leaves helps it stay hidden.
