

Owl perched on a tree.

Twit-twoo! I'm hiding.
What other animals are hiding on these pages?

Hide and seek

Some animals are masters at blending in with their surroundings. This is called camouflage and it's a useful skill for hunting or for hiding.

Bush cricket that looks like a brown leaf.

The stripy pattern on a tiger doesn't just look impressive. It helps the tiger stay hidden amongst tall grass, and sneak up on unsuspecting prey.

Stick insects can hide amongst sticks. They look so much like twigs that when they stand still none of their enemies can tell the difference!