

Super skeletons

Animals have different types of skeletons based on their needs. Some are strong, whereas others can be light or flexible.

Elephant

There are no bones in my trunk.

Where's the trunk?

Elephants are best known for their trunks, but if you look at their skeleton you won't find one! That's because their trunks are made of muscles and no bones.