

Birds' bones are hollow because they need to be light enough to fly.

Bird

Here are some other animal skeletons.

Frog

In order to jump long distances, frogs have long bones in their toes and hind limbs.

Snake

The reason snakes are so bendy is because they've got so many bones in their back.

Giraffe

Surprisingly, a giraffe's neck has seven bones, which is the same amount as a human's.

Tortoise

Tortoises have bones on both the inside and outside of their bodies.
