

Giant anteater

These hungry creatures use their big noses to sniff out ant and termite nests. Finding a nest is good news for an anteater, but bad news for their prey!

Back for more

Anteaters are careful not to destroy any nests they find. Instead, they wait for the nests to be repaired so they can go back for more!

Grrr! Leave our nest alone. We've only just repaired it.

Anteaters don't have teeth. They swallow their meals whole!
