

EARTHRISE FROM APOLLO 8

In December 1968, the three-man crew of Apollo 8 became the first humans to orbit the Moon. They also became the first to see Earth rise over the Moon's cratered surface, as in this image taken through the spacecraft's window. Apollo 8's pictures of Earth helped emphasize how small and fragile our home planet is and strongly influenced the environmental movement.

