

Flemish artist Peter Paul Rubens drew this copy of Leonardo's Battle of Anghiari in 1603. Leonardo's original design no longer exists.

At the same time that Leonardo received his commission for the Battle of Anghiari, Michelangelo was hired to paint a mural on the opposite wall to Leonardo's scene. Michelangelo's mural would commemorate the Battle of Cascina, another victory for Florence, this one over Pisa in 1364.

