1. Glue pieces of patterned paper onto some cardboard. Copy the shapes, shown here.

Draw this shape for a body...

a head...

paws...

and a tail.

2. Glue the head and tail onto the body. Then, glue on a paper nose, and draw a face with whiskers.

3. Make a small cut a little way into the body, and one the same length into the paws. Then, slot them together.

Fold the paws forward a little to make the cat stand up.

These cats and dogs were all made with scraps of wrapping paper.

...and tired dogs

1. Copy the shapes below onto cardboard for a dog's body, head, paws and back leg.

Draw this shape for a body...

a head...

paws...

and a back leg.

2. Glue the head and back leg onto the body. Draw eyes and a nose. Then, follow step 3 above, for slotting on the paws.

You could make a dog with a patterned coat.

310 Hairy dog

Draw lots of little lines with a pencil on the head, paws and tail before you construct the dog.
