

North America

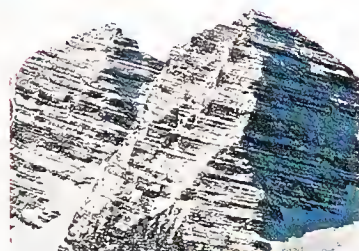

US and Mexico

With mountains in the west and east and deserts in the south, North America has some spectacular scenery.

Did you know?

- Mexico has over 6,000 miles (9,650 km) of coastline!
- There are only 800 grizzly bears left in the US.

Rocky Mountains

The Rockies stretch for 3,000 miles (4,800 km) down the western side of the US.

Monument Valley

These sandstone rocks have been carved by winds in the Painted Desert, Utah.

Great Lakes

The five Great Lakes make up the largest area of freshwater in the world.

States

- 1 VERMONT
- 2 NEW JERSEY
- 3 DELAWARE
- 4 MARYLAND
- 5 CONNECTICUT
- 6 NEW HAMPSHIRE
- 7 MASSACHUSETTS
- 8 RHODE ISLAND

Death Valley

Death Valley in California is the hottest, driest place in the whole of North America.

Sonoran Desert

This desert lies between the US and Mexico. It is famous for its giant cacti.

Collared lizard

This lizard manages to survive in the dry deserts.

Grand Canyon

This deep, rocky gorge has been cut out in Arizona by the Colorado River.

Okefenokee Swamp

This freshwater swamp in southern Georgia is a safe refuge for wildlife.

