

Ancient China

Chinese inventions

Compasses were used at sea on Chinese ships.

China was formed more than 2,000 years ago. Powerful emperors kept China isolated from the rest of the world.

Silk robe
Rich people wore beautiful robes made of expensive silk.

Dragon

The dragon was an important symbol of strength and goodness. It was the emperor's symbol, too.

Ears of a bull

Demon eyes

Colorful material

Scales of a fish

Dragon costumes were worn at important festivals.

Dragon seal
Emperors used this seal to sign important papers.

Entertainment

The ancient Chinese loved drama and playing games, such as chess.

Chess pieces

Gambling counters

Actor

Wheelbarrows were invented about 2,000 years ago.

An earthquake detector felt the slightest shaking of the Earth.

Paper was made from straw, rags, and water.

Did you know?

The Chinese used kites in the shapes of dragons to frighten enemies in battle.

Emperor

Ancient China was ruled by emperors. The royal family was called a dynasty.

The Kangxi emperor ruled China 300 years ago.

The tomb of the first emperor was guarded by a huge army of life-size clay soldiers.

The first emperor completed the Great Wall of China. It is still standing today.

