

Ancient Greece

Gods

The Greeks had many gods. Zeus was king of the gods.

Zeus

The ancient Greeks lived more than 2,500 years ago, but many of their ideas are still important to us today.

Mirror

This beautiful bronze mirror is decorated with a picture of Aphrodite, the goddess of beauty.

Arts and crafts

Theater was very popular. The Greeks wrote many plays.

Pottery

vases were made of red clay, and then decorated.

Toys for children were made of painted clay.

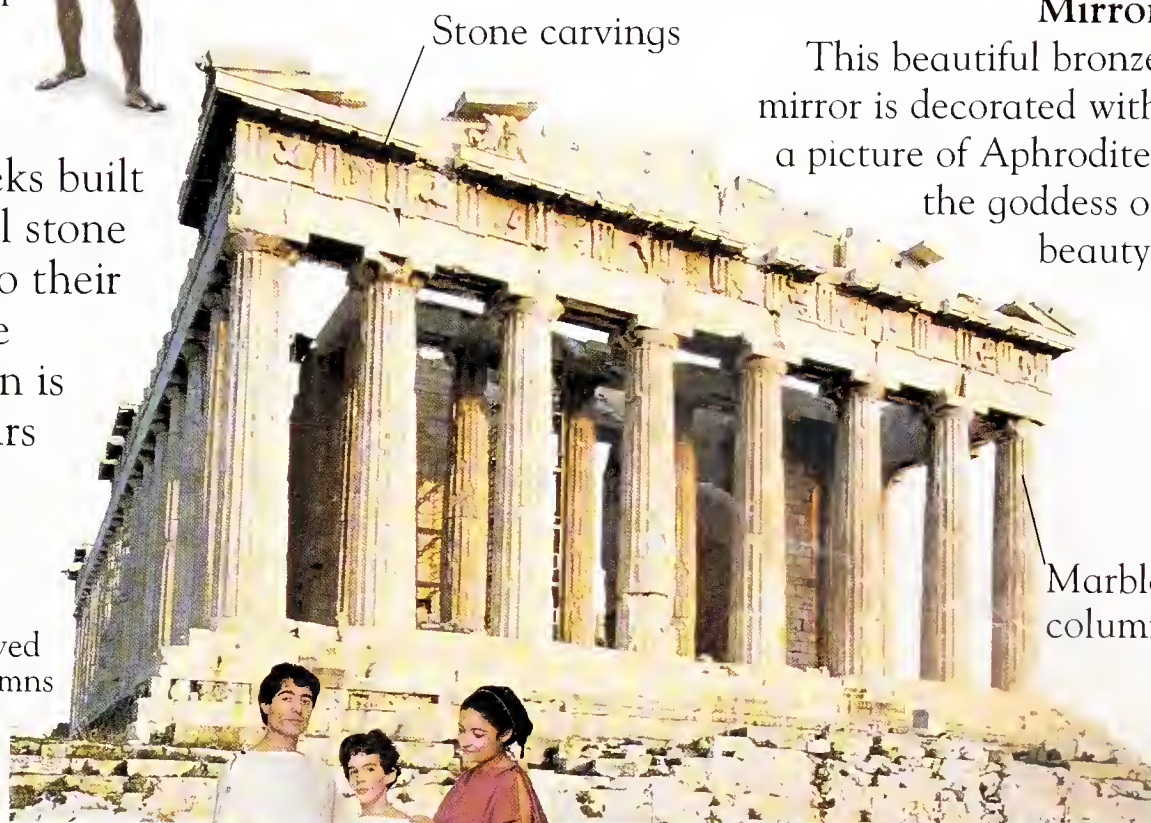

Metals were made into statues and jewelry.

Gold earring

Temple

The Greeks built wonderful stone temples to their gods. The Parthenon is 2,500 years old.

Stone carvings

Marble columns

Carved columns

Family life

Ancient Greek families were very close. Marriages were often arranged.

Food

Many ancient Greeks ate bread, eggs, fresh fish, and figs.

Fresh figs

Fresh fish

Education

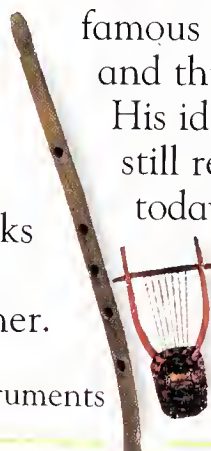

Boys went to school. They studied music, reading, and writing.

Two boys reading books are pictured on this pitcher.

Musical instruments

Socrates was a famous teacher and thinker. His ideas are still read today.

Statue of Socrates

Olympics

The Greeks loved sports. They invented the Olympic Games.

Painting of athletes

Did you know?

Masks and platform shoes were worn in ancient Greek theater when actors played the parts of gods.

