

Asia: culture

Products

Jute is grown in Bangladesh to make sacking and rope.

Oranges and other citrus fruits are grown in Israel.

Tea is grown on large plantations in India and Sri Lanka.

Oil is drilled in the desert countries in the west.

Bollywood, Bombay
This is the center of India's film industry.

Western and Southern Asia
Most people here still live in small villages, but many are moving to the cities for work.

Taj Mahal, Agra

This marble tomb in India was built as a memorial to the wife of an emperor. It is over 350 years old.

Beautiful towers on both sides

Delicate design

White marble walls

Riyadh

The city of Riyadh in Saudi Arabia was built with money from oil. All its buildings are new.

Food

Spices and fruit are used to flavor many dishes.

Cinnamon

Coriander

Turmeric

Apricots

Dates

Garlic

Nomads

Nomads still live in parts of Asia, moving from place to place.

Craftwork

The craftwork in this part of Asia is brightly colored and highly decorated.

Child's hat

Indian dress

Sitar

Turkish rug

Did you know?

In Bhutan, archery competitors jump in front of the targets to distract each other!

