

SAGITTA

The Arrow

This tiny constellation contains only one object of interest: the star cluster M71. The cluster is 12,000 light years away, and an astonishing 10 billion years old.

Gamma Sagittae

M71

DATA FILE

SIZE RANKING: 86th

BRIGHTEST STAR: Gamma Sagittae

MONTH WHEN BEST VISIBLE:
September – Northern hemisphere

AQUILA

The Eagle

Aquila represents a flying eagle. Its brightest star, Altair, is a young white star, just 17 light years away. It spins at a speed of approximately 280 km (174 miles) per second.

DATA FILE

SIZE RANKING: 22nd

BRIGHTEST STAR: Altair

MONTH WHEN BEST VISIBLE:
August – Northern hemisphere

Altair

