

PUPPIS

The Stern

Puppis contains a major star, Naos, which at 42,000°C (75,630°F) is among the hottest known. This constellation includes several bright star clusters, such as M46 and M47.

DATA FILE

SIZE RANKING: 20th

BRIGHTEST STAR: Naos

MONTH WHEN BEST VISIBLE:
March – Southern hemisphere

VELA

The Sails

Lying in the Milky Way, Vela contains a treasure trove of stars, star clusters, and nebulae. Binoculars show Suhail to be a lovely double star. The bright star cluster IC 2391 is visible to the naked eye.

DATA FILE

SIZE RANKING: 32nd

BRIGHTEST STAR: Suhail

MONTH WHEN BEST VISIBLE:
March – Southern hemisphere

