

HOROLOGIUM

The Pendulum Clock

This constellation was named after the clock that French astronomer Nicolas Louis de Lacaille used to keep time in his observatory, when charting the southern stars.

DATA FILE

SIZE RANKING: 58th

BRIGHTEST STAR: Alpha Horologii

MONTH WHEN BEST VISIBLE:
December – Southern hemisphere

RETICULUM

The Net

Originally called the Rhombus for its diamond shape, the Net depicts the cross-hairs in a telescope's eyepiece that lets astronomers pinpoint stars' positions.

DATA FILE

SIZE RANKING: 82nd

BRIGHTEST STAR: Alpha Reticuli

MONTH WHEN BEST VISIBLE:
January – Southern hemisphere

