

PICTOR

The Painter's Easel

The second brightest star in Pictor, Beta Pictoris, hit the headlines in 1984: it was the first star discovered to be surrounded by a dusty disc, in which new planets are being born.

DATA FILE

SIZE RANKING: 59th

BRIGHTEST STAR: Alpha Pictoris

MONTH WHEN BEST VISIBLE:
February – Southern hemisphere

DORADO

The Goldfish

This constellation contains a treasure-trove of nebulae and star clusters within the Large Magellanic Cloud, the nearest major galaxy to the Milky Way.

DATA FILE

SIZE RANKING: 72nd

BRIGHTEST STAR: Alpha Doradus

MONTH WHEN BEST VISIBLE:
January – Southern hemisphere

