

LAIKA THE DOG

1954-1957

Laika, a little dog who orbited Earth in the second satellite to be launched, blazed the trail for humans to fly into space. Unfortunately, she did not survive the journey on this Russian mission, as her craft's cooling system failed. The next canine crew of Belka and Strelka landed safely and even had puppies.

Laika was a stray dog, found roaming the streets of Moscow.

DATA FILE

KEY ACHIEVEMENT: First animal to orbit Earth

COUNTRY OF ORIGIN: Russia

YEAR OF ACHIEVEMENT: 1957