

DENNIS TITO

Born 1940

Tito agreed to pay for any breakages he caused on board the ISS.

Although he became a multi-millionaire through his success in business, Dennis Tito always loved space. He had previously designed an unmanned Mars-mission for NASA. Tito paid $20 million to travel with a Russian crew on a mission to the International Space Station (ISS) for a week, and, in 2001, became the first person to buy his own ticket to space.
