

Draw your baby's family tree

Help to strengthen your baby's sense of belonging by creating a big family tree to look at together. Draw a large colorful picture of a tree and stick photographs of close family members onto it. Hang it on his nursery wall or in the kitchen and hold him in your arms to look at it together. It will also act as another way of bonding with grandparents, aunts and uncles, siblings, and cousins.

MONTH
5