

Animal diaper time

If your baby is fidgeting and frustrated during diaper changes, find large pictures of animals and stick them onto separate pieces of card. Hang one where your baby can see it as you change his diaper, and entertain him with the animal noises. Change the picture frequently. Or find large soft or plastic animals, and hand one to him during the diaper change.

Open a bank account for your baby

If you have already received gifts of money for your baby, you may want to open a bank account for him. Take a trip to your local bank together if you want to make it a special event.

This is the way...

Your baby still loves to watch what you do, even if it's a mundane task. If you brush your hair or wash your hands, for example, sing the song, "This is the way I..." as you do it. You can then repeat the song and brush your baby's hair with his brush or wipe his hands.

Learning to point

Lay your baby's soft toys in a row, point to each one with your index finger, and say what it is. Your baby may pat or wave his hand at each toy as he learns how to direct his index finger.

To keep your baby entertained, read him a familiar story in a funny voice, sing the words, or change the pace by reading one page slowly and the next fast. You can also copy things that happen to characters, like giving your baby a hug.
