

Make your baby laugh!

Your baby probably managed his first giggle when he was around three months old, but now that he's nine months old you might find that every so often he delights you with a great big belly laugh.

This wonderful sound is a sign that he's developing a sense of humor, and is interacting with people around him and enjoying their company. Try to figure out what tickles his funny bone.

You could:

- ✿ Make funny faces at him
- ✿ Tickle his thighs
- ✿ Pretend his feet are very, very smelly and give an enormous groan of horror.
