

Pacify your baby

If your baby is crying and you don't know why, try this relaxing yoga pose and gently hum or sing over him.

It's also a good idea to sing to him every time you change his diaper or do a quick chore—he will love to listen to the sounds you make and won't mind if you are not a natural singer.

Calming pose

Lay your baby on his back on a soft surface such as a sheepskin or an extra-soft blanket or towel. Make sure he is warm and comfortable. Kneel down on all fours and bend over him so that your elbows and palms are resting on either side of him on the sheepskin and your face is close to his. Gently hum and sing over him to help pacify him. Try to lengthen your out-breaths as you sing to allow you to release any tension you may be holding, and enjoy the stretch through your spine if your back is feeling sore or stiff.
