

Your baby at...
1-2 months

Now he's a few weeks old, your baby is learning about muscle control: he may be able to lift and move his head a little, and make slightly smoother movements. He'll use his voice and body language to show he's excited when he senses you are around, and he may respond with cooing noises when you talk to him. His improving eyesight means he is beginning to track objects in front of his face. He is also becoming aware of other important people in his life.
