

Kisses to learn

Whenever you dress your baby or change her diaper, say, “I love your tummy,” and kiss her tummy. Repeat several times, then kiss her hands, feet, forehead, ears, cheeks, and nose in the same way as you talk to her. Combining touch and speech like this helps her both listen to language and enjoy affection.

Read aloud

If you want to read a newspaper, the sports pages, or a magazine while your baby is awake and contented, read aloud. It doesn't matter what you read to her when she is this tiny, she just wants to hear your familiar voice and the long, clear sounds you make.
