

Soothing relaxation

If your baby won't settle down, or you both need some calming time together, try this gentle yoga meditation.

If you have a yoga belt, place it in a straight line along the floor, otherwise use a long fabric strap or string. Stand upright in bare feet. Hold your baby over your shoulder so he can look behind you, and support his head if needed. Check that your spine is aligned and your weight is evenly distributed. Keeping your knees slightly bent and taking small steps, walk along the length of the belt, humming to your baby and breathing easily. Concentrate on putting one foot in front of the other and let go of any emotions or distracting thoughts as you walk. When you reach the end of the belt, turn around slowly and walk back over it. Repeat as many times as you need to.
