

3
MONTH

New sounds

Develop your baby's concentration skills by letting her hear the noises of different household objects—an alarm clock, an electric shaver, the timer on a microwave or oven, the hum of a dishwasher, and water flowing from a faucet, for example. Tell her where the noise comes from as you listen to it together.

splash!

swish

tick
tock

Tower of blocks

Your baby's hand movements are becoming more refined. Build a simple tower of bright fabric blocks, then bat them over with your hand. Rebuild the tower and encourage her to copy you by swiping at the tower with her hands.