

Tactile rhyme

Since touch is one of the most powerful ways in which you can bond with your baby, try tactile rhymes such as this whenever you get the chance. Touch her fingers, toes, ears, nose, and mouth, and then scoop her up in a hug and kiss her.

"Ten little fingers, ten little toes,
Two little ears and one little nose,
Two little eyes that shine so bright,
And one little mouth to kiss me goodnight!"

Up-down walking tour

Walk your baby round the house or garden, gently turning around, and dipping and raising her as you go. Her senses are now very receptive to lessons about how her body moves through space. Every move she makes also helps to develop her coordination and balance, and exercise her muscles. Say "Up" and "Down" as you lift and lower her while you walk.
