

Visual discovery

Look for some bright, everyday objects around the house—such as a large ball of yarn, a colorful hairbrush, and a few boldly patterned items you may have. Hold each object in turn about 12 in (30 cm) away from your baby's face and explain what they are to her. Let her explore them with her eyes.

Busy bee

With your baby in your arms, hold your finger up, move it around in the air, and make a buzzing noise. Her eyes should follow your finger. Land the “bee” on her skin with a slight tickle, and repeat several times. Then hold her finger in the air and move it around as you make the buzzing noise. Land her finger on your cheek and express enough surprise to make her laugh.
