

281 Make a caterpillar house

30
MINS

Collect caterpillars in spring and summer, and watch them turn into butterflies. Remember which plants they were on—the caterpillars will eat the leaves.

What you need

- Cutting board • Twigs
- Scissors • Water spray
- Small paintbrush
- Paper towels • Muslin
- Plastic lidded box

1 Cut a hole in the box lid so only a rim remains. Line the box with paper towels. Spray with water. Add leaves and twigs.

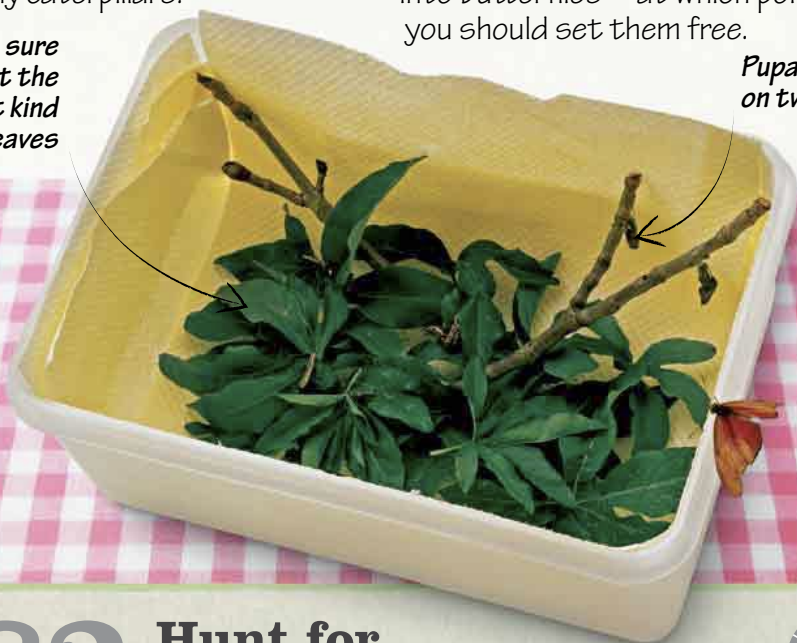

2 Lift the caterpillars into the box using the paintbrush. Drape the muslin on top and put the lid on to hold it.

3 Put the box in a quiet, shady place. Change the leaves and paper every day. Make sure not to lose any caterpillars!

4 Once the caterpillars have formed pupas, don't disturb them. Soon they'll change into butterflies—at which point you should set them free.

Make sure you get the right kind of leaves

282 Hunt for insect larvae

MINS

Insects hatch from eggs into larvae before changing into their adult forms. Search for them on leaves in your yard. Ladybug larvae look armor-plated and feed on garden pests, especially aphids.
