

333 Make a nature ice bowl

1
HR

Ice keeps drinks cool, but did you know you can also make things out of ice? With a few kitchen items and some flowers, you can create a stunning ice bowl. Serve dessert in it—or just enjoy it while it lasts!

What you need

- 2 freezer-proof bowls, one smaller than the other
- Flowers and leaves
- Tape • Fork • Water

Use a jar to hold down the inner bowl

2 Fill the space between the bowls with water. Add flowers and leaves, spacing them out with a fork. Freeze for 10 hours.

Make this bowl with berries and fruit slices and use it to hold lemonade!

1 Fill the large bowl with 1 in (2.5 cm) of water and put it in the freezer until hard. Place the smaller bowl on top. Tape it in place.

3 Remove the tape and turn the bowls upside down. The ice bowl should slide out, ready to use. It will last for several hours.

334 Create an ice lantern

You can make a lantern in the same way using half a plastic bottle as the base and a plastic cup to hollow out the middle. Add leaves, twigs, or ivy, and freeze solid. Turn out the lantern, add a tealight, and enjoy the glow.
