

125 Train honeybees

30
MINS

Honeybees are especially good at remembering where the best flowers are. When they find new ones, they tell their hive-mates by dancing. Test their memories with some fake flowers.

You will need

- Posterboard in five colors
- Scissors
- Water
- Cup
- Sugar
- 5 bottle caps

1 Cut five different colored flowers out of posterboard. Mix sugar water in a cup. Put the flowers in the sun, with a bottle cap in the center of each.

2 Put sugar water in one bottle cap. The first bees will tell the hive about the food, and other bees will come to the same flower.

Bees return to empty cap

3 Take away the sugar water. Bees will return to the same flower, remembering it by sight, even when the food isn't there.

Ask an adult to remove the food—bees can sting you if they get angry.

126 Is it a bee or a wasp?

Bees are covered in fuzzy hairs and have short bodies. Wasps are smooth and streamlined, with a narrow waist dividing their thorax and abdomen (body parts).
