

Bus

Buses have seats for lots of people, and they can be a cheap way to travel. Some buses, called double-deckers, have two levels of seats linked by stairs.

Make sure you wear a helmet every time you ride your bike!

Bicycles

Pedal bikes don't need fuel—just muscle power! They're a great way of staying in shape while traveling.

Electric cars

Some cars have battery-powered motors. The battery is charged by plugging it into an electrical socket. Electric cars do not splutter out polluting exhaust fumes.

Subway trains

City subway trains rumble through underground tunnels, or clatter over tracks. They often carry hundreds of passengers at a time.