

Many skyscrapers are made of steel, concrete, and glass.

Skyscrapers

Extremely tall buildings are called skyscrapers. The tallest ones have more than 100 floors, or stories. Skyscrapers are often used as hotels or offices.

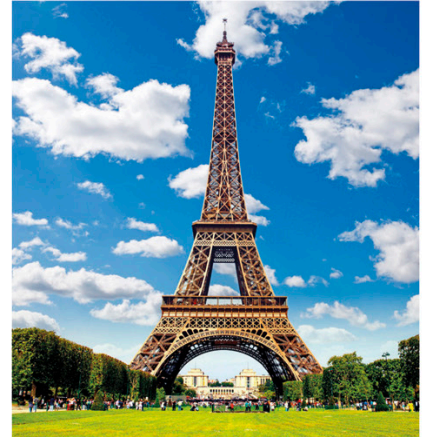

The world's tallest building is the Burj Khalifa in Dubai, United Arab Emirates. It has 163 floors!

Office buildings

Many people travel to city centers each day to work in offices. In most office buildings, people sit at desks and work on computers.

Eye-catching buildings

A lot of buildings can look like boxes. But there are plenty of others with unusual shapes—some weird, and some wonderful!

The Eiffel Tower in Paris, France

This is a rocket-shaped iron tower.

The Shard in London, UK

This is a needlelike skyscraper.

Taj Mahal in Agra, India

This building has beautiful white domes.
