A FORMULA 1 STEERING WHEEL COSTS ABOUT $32,000

Le Mans

The French town of Le Mans hosts the world's toughest endurance race. Teams of three drivers keep their sports cars racing for 24 hours, grabbing what food and rest they can between two-hour stints behind the wheel.

Formula 1 (F1)

In the annual F1 World Championship, ultra high-performance "open-wheel" race cars compete in a series of Grand Prix races worldwide. Cars finishing in the top-10 positions in each race win points. At the season's end, trophies are awarded for the driver and manufacturer with the most points.
