

Winter Olympic Games

Utah is one of the few states to have been chosen as a site for the Winter Olympics and Paralympics. The state capital, Salt Lake City, hosted the Games in 2002. Team USA achieved a rare “podium sweep” in one of the men’s snowboarding events—that means US athletes took home the gold, silver, and bronze medals in a single event!

The opening ceremony for the Winter Olympic Games in Salt Lake City

North Window Arch in Arches National Park, Utah

The father of television

When you watch TV, you have Philo Farnsworth to thank for it. This Utah native created the first all-electric television. He invented around 300 useful gadgets and technologies in his lifetime.

