Beauty abounds in every corner of Arkansas. Its stunning natural landscapes have earned it the nickname "The Natural State." Sparkling diamonds can be found in a unique diamond mine! And one of the nation's most inspiring historical moments happened in Arkansas with the Little Rock Nine.

The Little Rock Nine

In the 1950s, schools were segregated due to racism. In Little Rock, Arkansas, nine Black teenagers were enrolled in an all-white Southern high school. This was one of the first major steps in helping schools become more integrated.
