

Handheld flares
can burn for about 1 minute
and can be seen
up to 3 miles
(5 km) away.

Calling for help

On the icy slopes of Fairfield, UK, a rescue helicopter is being guided to the site of an accident by a flare burning with a bright red flame. Flares are also very effective during rescues at sea, especially at night.