

THE PRINCESS AND THE FROG

Kiss the Frog

Tiana never thought she would want to kiss a frog. However, Prince Naveen, in frog form, changes her mind. Try out this froggy twist on a classic party game.

TOP TIP

Either leave all the lips on the frog until the end or write the player's initials in their place.

You will need:

- A large poster-sized piece of paper
- Felt-tip pens or paint
- White cardstock
- Poster tack
- Blindfold

Prince Naveen is a human who has been turned into a frog with bad magic!

1 Draw or print out a large picture of a frog.

2 Draw pairs of lips on the cardstock, colour them different shades and cut them out. You need at least one pair for each player.

3 Put your frog on the wall with poster tack, roughly at eye level to the players.

4 Add some poster tack to each of the lips and give one to each player.

HOW TO PLAY:

Players take turns being blindfolded and spun around three times. Then they stick their lips on the frog picture, as close to the mouth as possible. When everyone has had a turn, the winner is whoever's lips are nearest to the centre of the frog's mouth.
