

TANGLED

Rapunzel Bookmark

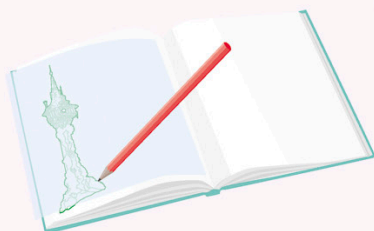

Growing up imprisoned in a tower, Rapunzel learns about the outside world from books. Don't get in a tangle with your own reading. Use Rapunzel's long, golden hair to mark your place.

You will need:

- Tracing paper
- Pencil
- White cardstock
- Scissors
- Clear tape
- Colouring pencils, pens or paint
- Poster tack
- Thin ribbon

Build the tower

The template on page 62 forms the main part of the bookmark. It's Rapunzel's tall tower, hidden deep in the forest.

- 1 Trace the template on page 62 onto tracing paper and then copy it onto cardstock.

- 2 Colour in the tower – you could use pencils or paints – and cut it out.

The top of Rapunzel's tower helps you find your page.

Let down

Rapunzel's hair

Strands of Rapunzel's hair tumble out of the tower window, just as they will flow out of your book.

- 1 Place a small ball of poster tack under the marked window.
- 2 Pierce a hole by pushing the pencil through the cardstock, into the poster tack.
- 3 Cut three strands of ribbon 50 cm (20 in) long.

- 4 Thread the strands through the hole in the window and fasten with tape at the back.

- 5 Braid the strands all the way to the bottom.

- 6 Tie a knot in the base of the braid. Finish with a bow tied from pretty ribbon.

Use yellow or gold ribbons for a hairlike braid.
