

Swimming

Swimmers use their arms and legs to push themselves through the water. There are four different swimming strokes, each with its own technique.

Top swimmers are very muscular and usually have broad shoulders.

Freestyle

Also known as front crawl, this is the fastest stroke. The swimmer moves their arms forward in turn while constantly kicking their feet.

Butterfly

This is the most difficult stroke. The swimmer throws both arms forward, then pulls them back along each side of their body while performing a dolphin kick with their legs.
