

First perfect 10

At the 1976 Olympics in Montréal, Canada, the Romanian gymnast Nadia Comăneci stunned the world by receiving the first perfect score in Olympic history.

They say that nobody's perfect, but I proved that wrong!

Nadia on the uneven bars

Nobody like Nadia

Nadia was only 14 years old when she competed at the Olympics. She performed her routine on the uneven bars event and was incredible. When she finished, the crowd eagerly awaited her score. But something wasn't right—she had only scored 1.0...