

The Super Bowl

The Super Bowl is the game that decides who will be football's champion. Thirty-two teams vie for the title, but only one can win.

All or nothing

The Super Bowl takes place on the first Sunday in February. It is played after a 16-game season that is followed by playoff games, where teams are eliminated when they lose. The last two remaining teams face off in the Super Bowl.

The 2015 Super Bowl between the New England Patriots and the Seattle Seahawks was watched by 114.4 million people!

←
Tom Brady

Tom Brady has won more Super Bowls than any other player.