

Tour de France

The Tour de France is the most famous cycling event in the world. It's very difficult and tiring, with some parts taking place on mountains.

On your bike

The race is made up of different stages. Overall, it takes three weeks and goes for thousands of miles. The route is different every year, but it always finishes in Paris.

While most of the race takes place in France, sometimes

Eddy Merckx from Belgium, Bernard Hinault and Jacques Anquetil from France, and Miguel Induráin from Spain, have all won the Tour de France five times.

Eddy Merckx

Eddy Merckx is a cycling legend. He holds the record for most stage wins in the Tour de France, with 34.