Jumps

In track and field, there are four events where jumping is key: long jump, high jump, triple jump, and pole vault.

High jump

Athletes jump over a bar onto a mat. If they clear the bar, it is moved higher. If they don't clear it in three tries, they are eliminated. The winner is whoever jumps highest.

Long jump

In long jump, athletes sprint down a runway then leap as far as they can into a sand pit. The winner is whoever leaps farthest.

Triple jump
