

Tennis

Players have to master several types of shot, including the serve, volley, forehand, backhand, and lob.

Tennis is a racket sport where players take turns hitting a ball over a net into the other side of the court.

Singles tennis

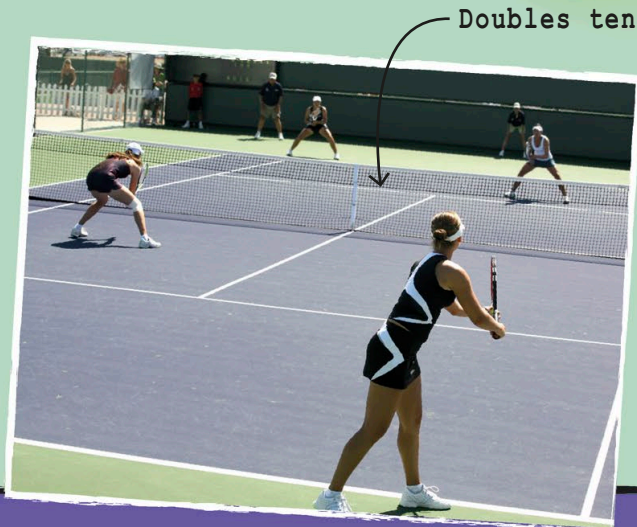

Singles or doubles

Tennis can be played against one opponent, called “singles,” or as a pair against two opponents, called “doubles.” Singles games use part of the court and doubles games use the whole court.

Top tournaments

The four biggest tournaments in tennis are known as the “Grand Slams,” or majors. These are Wimbledon, the French Open, the US Open, and the Australian Open.

Doubles tennis

If a player serves and their opponent

