

GO OVERBOARD FOR ORANGES

Bold and brilliant – orange food tends to contain a lot of something called “beta-carotene”. In your body this turns into Vitamin A, which is good for your eyes. Orange food can also contain Vitamin C, which helps protect you from illness.

PAPAYA is a fruit that grows in warm places. It's full of vitamins and minerals.

You can buy sweet potatoes that are white or orange on the inside. The orange ones taste sweeter.

SWEET POTATO

Both potatoes and sweet potatoes are filling, packed with nutrients, and give you lots of energy, but sweet potatoes have loads more Vitamin A.

Tough on the outside, but smooth and tasty on the inside. BUTTERNUT SQUASH is hearty and nutritious. Even the seeds are good for you!
