

Pulao is known for his loud scream. He is carved onto the handles of bells so they can be heard from far away.

Fuxi likes literature and can be found on the top of tombstones. He is shaped like a classic dragon.

Chiwen is half fish and is often placed on roofs in order to ward off fire and prevent buildings from burning.

Bi'an is a cross between a tiger and a dragon. He symbolizes justice, and can be found in courtrooms.

Suanni is lion shaped and is often found in Buddhist temples, where he enjoys smelling incense.

