

Con Rong

Originating in Vietnam, the Con Rong had a water fairy mother and a dragon father. Together they hatched 100 Con Rong eggs. 50 of the hatchlings stayed on land with their father and 50 chose to live in the water with their mother.

APPEARANCE

The Cong Rong has short strong legs and a sturdy, more crocodile-like body than most of the other serpent-based dragons.

DWELLING

On dry land and deep under the water.
