

Knucker

The Knucker is one of the most destructive and terrifying dragons in history. It lived in the English county of Sussex, where it was known for destroying villages and eating everything for miles.

APPEARANCE

The Knucker has huge jaws and teeth, four strong legs, and a streamlined body that allows it to swim down knuckerholes and along underwater streams. It had very small wings, and rarely flew.

DWELLING

Knuckerholes—bottomless water holes in England.

POWERS AND TRAITS

- Incredibly destructive
- Venomous bite
- The ability to consume everything in sight
- Able to coil around its prey like a boa constrictor snake