

Magic

The power of influencing the world with mysterious or supernatural abilities.

Mythology

Stories about gods, creatures, or heroes that often explain how the world came to be.

Predator

A creature that hunts and eats other animals.

Prey

A creature that is hunted for food.

Putrid

Something that is decaying or rotting.

Rare

Something not found in large numbers, usually making it valuable or important.

Reptiles

Cold-blooded animals with scaly skin that reproduce by laying eggs. Includes snakes, lizards, crocodiles, and dinosaurs.

Scales

Hard pieces of skin that cover a reptile's body.

Serpent

A large snake.

Shapeshifting

The ability to change shape and take on a new appearance.

Talons

Sharp claws, usually seen on birds of prey.

Toxic

A substance that is dangerous, such as poison.

Treasure

Something of great worth or value.

Underworld

A mythical world, often where the dead live.

Venomous

Substance that may be deadly if injected through a sting, scratch, or bite.

Wisdom

Possessing a lot of knowledge and experience.

Yeouiju

A magic orb that grants power.